

Web Accessibility Events

Can your website reach all of your audience?

Can all potential users find out about your services? Not only do inaccessible websites create barriers to information access, under the Disability Discrimination Act (DDA) inaccessible websites are illegal.

Does your website comply with UK law? How do you create and maintain an accessible website?

Web Accessibility for web developers

Session A (10.00-1.00)

This course will introduce a practical overview of the key issues and how to fix them. The course will give you an overview of how disabled people use the web and current web accessibility guidelines. The course will focus on practical solutions, you will also be introduced to tools which will assist you in testing your website.

Who should attend?

Web Designers, Web Developers and Web Managers

Web Accessibility for (non-technical) managers

Session B (1.30-4.00)

What are the REAL problems faced by users of your website and how they can be overcome? You will be given a broad overview of the legal issues surrounding websites in the UK and an introduction to guidelines and accreditation schemes. We will provide you with practical strategies to manage an accessible website.

Who should attend?

Web Managers, Marketing and PR managers, Disability Managers and Equal Opportunity Managers.

Comments from participants

"Very worthwhile, particularly the accompanying guides"

"Excellent visuals, interesting, passionate but calm, very well organized, non-judgemental"
